

Top 50 Management and Economics Journals in China

The Association of MBAs and Business Graduates Association (AMBA & BGA) and Cabells have launched a curated list of quality Chinese-language journals in business and management. The list has been developed by both organisations to support Chinese business scholars in identifying the most impactful journals in which to publish their research.

The AMBA-Cabells Journal Report (ACJR) offers guidance on the 50 most influential Chinese-language business and management journals to help institutions and authors decide which journals would be the most suitable outlets for their publications.

Using a combination of sophisticated citation analysis and expert peer review, the ACJR aims to support Chinese scholars to showcase the best business and management research being published in China.
